

The South:

Richmond: Third largest city; growth of the railroads during the mid-1800s made this city become a commercial and industrial center; capital of the Confederacy

www.archives.gov