

Rubric for Open Response:

4	Student gives correct answers for parts A and B. All explanations are clear and complete. There is evidence of clear understanding of the concept.
3	Student gives correct answers for parts A and B. Explanations may contain some misconceptions or inaccuracies, but don't really interfere with the major understanding.
2	Student answers one (A or B) part of the question completely correct. There is some evidence of understanding.
1	Student gives only parts of correct answers. There is little evidence of understanding.
0	Response is totally incorrect or irrelevant (does not add any new information to the question).
B	No response